ADMINISTRATION

MR. WAY

Mr. Way gives his aims:

"I have tried to strengthen the schools by giving my complete support to fine administration in each local school system. Primarily, a school's efficiency is determined by good teaching in every class room and sympathetic understanding in supervision and administration of all school problems."

Mr. Way received his P.H.B. from Ohio Northern and his M.A. from the University of Wisconsin.

He was born and reared in Pike County. In 1926 he became supervisor of the Waverly schools, and in 1931 he became Pike County Superintendent of Schools.

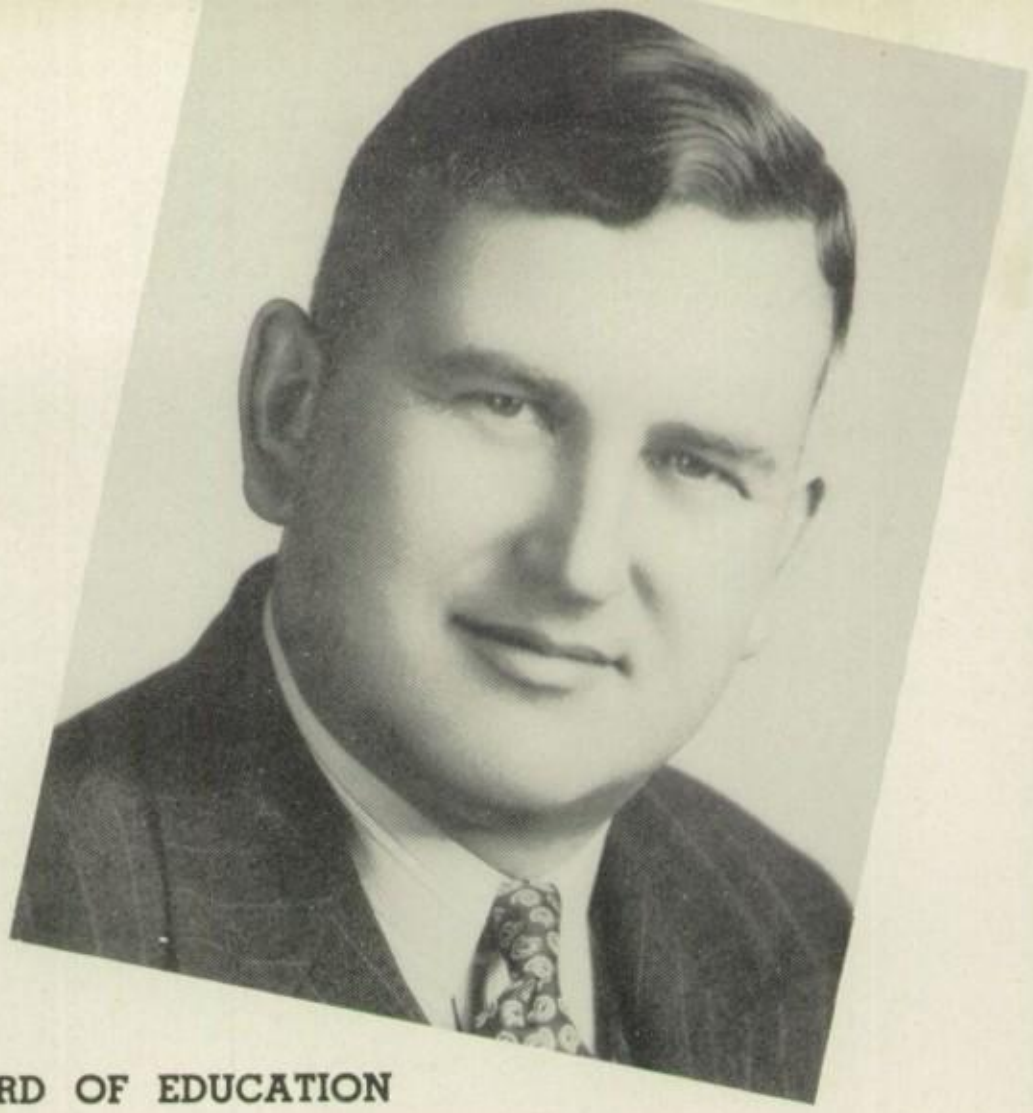
J. R. TEICHERT

Continuous superintendency is testimony of the high regard in which J. R. Teichert is held by the local school board, representatives of the citizens of the community.

His chief aim has been to establish a program to meet the academic needs of students preparing for college and effective courses, including vocational classes, for those who expect to end their formal education on completing high school.

The last years have also witnessed an expanded music and athletic program by increasing the faculty membership.

Mr. Teichert at all times tries to maintain the working principles of democracy within the staff and within the student body.



MEMBERS OF BOARD OF EDUCATION

President	Will H. Acord
Vice-President	Dr. R. T. Leever
Clerk	D. Stull Moore
Members	John Markham, George Dixon

SCHOOL BOARD

The Waverly school board from year to year has maintained a progressive program of keeping up buildings, equipment, and personnel.

Some of the major accomplishments of this year are the interior decoration of the High School building, increased faculty membership to broaden the curriculum, and the installation of flood lights for the athletic field.

MR. CALDWELL

Mr. Caldwell, after having taught in the Pike County schools for a number of years, first came into his home-town schools as a coach and English teacher in 1929. He became principal in 1947.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio University in 1929 and his Master of Arts degree from Ohio State University in 1939.

Underneath his sincere, quiet, unassuming manner there is a force of character which commands respect, admiration, and a desire to accomplish things.

We, the Seniors of Waverly High School, thank our teachers for their formal instruction and friendly guidance. We feel grateful to them for their patience and deep interest in our welfare.

CLASS HISTORY

Class President - - - - - - - - - Kenneth Hale
Vice-President - - - - - - - - - John Schwartz
Secretary - - - - - - - - - - Donald Mathews
Treasurer - - - - - - - - - - Carolyn Rhoads
Class Flower: Carnation Class Colors: Blue and White

MOTTO: "Knowledge Comes, but Wisdom Lingers"

When we started in the first grade in 1937 in the rooms of Mrs. Shropshire and Miss Keechel, we were quite frightened at the new duties. Of the forty-seven members in our class, nineteen started in the first grade: Richard Armbruster, Jerry Brown, Norma Jean Browning, Mildred Carter, Homer Chandler, Robert Doll, Willard Dixon, Wilma Jean Harris, Edith Ann Lansing, Eileen Litterest, Juanita Massie, Jeanne McGowan, Carolyn Rhoads, Barbara Rooker, John Schwartz, Bill Scott, Paul Sword, Robert Stewart, and Virginia Streitenberger.

During the grades we gave programs on safety in which we learned the safety rules for driving. Then came our junior-high years filled with bells for every class and different teachers for each one. Though we soon became acquainted with the routine, it was quite a task at first. Next was our Freshman and Sophomore years and time was drawing nearer to our Senior year. And last, but not least, came our two big years. During our Junior year, we received our class rings, published our first Hi-Lites, and worked hard on our class play, "Take Your Medicine." Our last big event of our Junior year was the banqueting of the Seniors at Lake White.

Then our Senior year, full of all its activities, was off to a big start. It started with the publishing of the school paper, work on the Annual, Bank Essay Contest, and class pictures. Then came the D.A.R. Test, Senior Scholarship Test, and the completion of the Waverly Novel. The last and final events of our school life were growing to an end. The class play, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and Alumni Banquet were the most outstanding events of our last year in High School.

CLASS WILL

Abandoning the W.H.S. building, we, the class of "49", do hereby leave our first, and probably last, wills.

THE TWIST

WOW! WHAT A SMILE

EATING AND DRINKING

CLASS

Lois West, editor of the Sidney Star, suggested that I, Norma Jeane Browning, take a vacation from my job as international correspondent on her paper to return to the old home town, Waverly.

As I boarded the plane I found the handsome pilot to be Scott Blythe. He was delighted to see me and eager to tell me that he would be bringing back to Australia on his return trip Edith Lansing, who after ten years had decided to say "yes."

Twenty hours later I was more thrilled at the sight of my native village than I had been at my first glimpse of the Statue of Liberty returning from my first trip abroad. At the airport I found Don Mathews running the local helicopter service. He took me at once to the Emmitt House where Manager Paul Sword and his wife, Ruth Hickman, greeted me most cordially. The exterior of the hotel had remained the same, but the interior had undergone an amazing transformation, planned by Architect Virginia Streitenberger, and Interior Decorator Naomi Loper.

That evening we made plans for a dinner party for those of the class of '49 who had remained in and around Waverly. Ruth suggested that we issue a few verbal invitations, thereby giving me the chance to look over the abodes of our old classmates.

Next morning we called Don's helicopter service and were taken to Jack Ferguson's mink farm high on a ridge overlooking the Scioto. Jack then accompanied us to Madeline Goble's turkey ranch north of Waverly on Route 23. Somehow or other I felt there was a romance between the mink farmer and the turkey rancher. Don next suggested that we take a panoramic view of Lake White and drop down for lunch at the newest club house.

I was truly amazed at the growth of the Lake Colony. As I was ushered into the ultra-swank Lake Villa Club House I found Mr. and Mrs. William Scott (Corda Crabtree), owner and manager.

Just as I alighted at the Emmitt after lunch, Robert Doll, recognizing me, drew up to the curb in his newest Kaiser-Frazer. Out stepped Mrs. Doll (Eileen Litterest), and three beautiful little Dolls. They were on their way to the office of Dr. Homer Chandler, who specialized in fluoride therapy which practically guarantees a lifetime preservation of teeth. His wife and assistant was the former Charlotte Yates.

After talking with the Dolls, I walked across the street and found myself standing in front of a window display of luscious confections. I went in and found Cynthia Ward in charge of "Edith's Sweet Shop." Edith Howard had turned her culinary art into big-business and had established a chain of shops over Ohio.

Next I visited Jerry's Drug Store to verify the recording previously made in my note book. He was too busy to talk to me but promised to come to the dinner party.

I returned to my room to write up my latest news notes of the class of '49 in a little book which I always carried with me. Thinking that I might read the contents of this book to my classmates at the dinner party, I looked over the entries of the last two years:

September 7, 1958 — Los Angeles

Bob Dyke is doing an excellent job coaching the Golden Bears at U. C. L. A.

September 10 — Hollywood

Met Eleanor Campbell, a make-up artist for M.G.M. Hm! She's done an excellent job on herself. She directed me to Anna Anderson's salon, famous for its Hollywood models and clientele of glittering stars, among who is a glamour girl, Jeanne McGowan. Purchased a smart dinner gown and a lime-colored Panama suit.

September 15 — Denver, Colorado

Just turned on my television set in time to see and hear Don Pfeifer conducting his cowboy singing contest at Laramie. Don had really found his place in the sun.

September 16 — Cheyenne, Wyoming

I have never seen such a colorful rodeo in my whole life, nor felt more thrills and chills. Imagine my surprise when I saw Garnet Keaton riding the toughest broncho in the whole show, and I had to be told that the magnificent matador walking into the arena was Kenny Hale. I recognized Barbara by her frantic waving at him.

PROPHECY

October 1 — Tulsa, Oklahoma

Came here to cover the world's Standard Oil conference where I met Harlan Jose and Robert Stewart who were working in the S. O. Laboratories. Yes, they were both happily married — and most of the time singing merrily. Thanks to Miss Samson.

October 25 — Stevens Hotel, Chicago

Just saw Lloyd George and his charming wife, Beulah Howard, celebrating their fifth wedding anniversary. Lloyd had just been appointed Ambassador to England. I'm afraid those Britishers will be victims of delusions.

November 1 — Washington, D. C.

Went to the Capital to get government news for the Sidney Star. Knowing that Richard Vest was one of the senators from Ohio, I called on him — very distinguished looking.

December 2 — Paris, France

Have just heard Jack Vulgamore play his violin. He and his brilliant author-wife, Mildred Carter, are living here in the Bohemian quarters. Jack is devoting himself to violin study, while Mildred is writing another novel after having won the Pulitzer Prize last year.

December 25 — Monte Carlo

Least expected of all people in the world was Willard Dixon. Dressed fit-to-kill and with a dazzling blonde on his arm. He was winning, he said, "Thousands."

April 5 — Naples, Italy

Imagine my running into the former Juanita Massie here! Lightly she explained that she had run away as soon as she had received her divorce decree from Jerry, and I wasn't blown over when she finally added, "Jerry is just as fickle as ever." She did not look happy.

May 19 — London, England

Eileen Harris recognized me as I came out of the theater today. She is noted as one of the world's most famous women detectives. At present she is disguised as a maid in the house of a duke and duchess who are suspected of robbing wealthy Americans of valuable jewels.

May 25 — Madrid, Spain

In bed with my sides taped as a result of seeing the American comedy team, Mary Lou Leeth and Carolyn Rhoads, at the Madrid Play House.

June 5 — New South Wales, Australia

Here I am in the wide open spaces of my thousand acres which I inherited from Uncle Henry. The surprise of my life was to find that Bill Arrowood and his wife, Betty Sharp, are my neighbors. When I appeared on the scene, music and dancing was the theme of the hour. The merrymaking was for their guest, handsome John Schwartz, still a bachelor. When I casually inquired about Kathleen, a shadow came over his face as he said, "Kathie has realized her ambition. She's the World's Queen of the Ice Skaters."

July 4 — Cairo, Egypt

Today, I felt a queer sensation when my Arabian camel driver called me by name in perfect English. "Surely you remember Francis Walls," he said. He explained that he had come here in a spirit of adventure immediately after graduation.

August 9 — Bagdad, Persia

Feeling somewhat dejected and in need of a morale uplift, I wandered into a most luxurious beauty shop. Scarcely looking around, I heard someone say, "And what may I do for you, Madame?" There stood Wilma Harris, twice as big as life and as beautiful as ever.

September 1 — Shanghai, China

"On a Slow Boat to China." How well I remember that old song of high school days. Romance really caught up with me today when I met again Richard Armbruster, now an American reporter for the New York Times. We fell in love all over again and some day we shall retire on that Australian ranch as Mr. and Mrs. Richard Armbruster.

As I read the last note, the little book slipped to the floor. I laid my head back and closed my eyes to let my mind wander back to those good old days in W.H.S. That last year! What a terrific struggle then to help publish the Hi-Lites, to raise money for and to edit the Waverly Novel. And now what a pleasant memory. Thus I went backward, picking out various high lights for each year until Ruth called me from the lobby, reminding me that it was almost time for dinner.

The Junior Class is an active and aggressive group. They have vim and vigor or whatever it takes to make the grade. They participate snappily in sports, do-re-me pleasingly in glee club, play superbly in band, perform smartly in dramatics; and are superior in class work. They walk smoothly, dress snazzily, and talk soothingly . . . especially to teachers.

Mr. Caldwell is their registration teacher, and Mrs. Freshour is their sponsor who directed them successfully through their class play, "Off the Track," and through their Junior-Senior banquet.

The word, sophomore, is derived from the Latin words, sophos wise and moros foolish. For this reason the sophomores are often smilingly referred to as the "know-all" class. Well, for this class, perhaps, the second part of the word should be omitted entirely, because the sophies really do know all the answers. Watch the mercury rise for the next two years.

The combination of certain two words spell freshman. Fresh has severel synonyms listed in Webster: full of vigor; vitality and the like; lively; inexperienced; recent, new; pure, cool, brisk; not salty; impudent, and meddling. Throw all of these together and stir briskly. The result will be a well-balanced mixture — just right.

ATHLETICS

These boys are representatives of the well-rounded athletic program of Waverly High School; namely, basketball, baseball, track, and football.

In this four-sport program the Tigers, under the supervision of Coach Hawhee and Coach Smith, have proceeded along the trail of gradual improvement. Coach Hawhee predicts a banner year in all sports for 1949-1950 and for succeeding years.

OUR CHEERLEADERS

CHEERLEADERS

The Varsity cheerleaders consist of five girls, four of whom are Seniors and the other a Junior. They have done a splendid job in boosting the morale of our team.

The Reserve cheerleaders are made up of three Juniors and one Sophomore, who have also done a fine job of cheering.

We are proud of the spirit that our cheerleaders have shown this year.

OUR PLAYERS

Kenny Hale (tackle) — Played best game on the defense. Held up his side of the line well.

Bob Dyke (fullback) — Low hard-driving player. Put out in mid-season because of injuries.

Robert Stewart (tackle) — A solid tackler and blocker. Sorry he doesn't have another year to play.

John Schwartz (end) — Hard-hitting captain of the team. Specialized in pass-receiving.

Bill Scott (end and sub-center)—Could play both well. Could keep the team in a fighting mood.

Paul Sword (fullback)—Was good at plunging straight through the line. Never made excuses when stopped.

VARSITY

When Coach Hawhee and Coach Smith called for boys for for the basketball squad, it was answered by the enlistment of a large squad.

Although they did not win the tourney, they showed that they were one of the most outstanding teams in the county. The Tigers have had a fairly good season this year. They lost several games by a narrow margin of one or two points.

Row 1: Richard Brown, Dick Brown, Fred Lofland, Rex Zonner, Joe Cofer, Robert Stewart. Row 2: Ronnie Daily, Gerald Hines, Ronnie Whaley, Billy Hartley, Frank Watters, Joe Markham.

RESERVES

Waverly has an excellent Reserve team this year. These boys have plenty of zip and speed. They have good eyes for that old bucket, and next year we will see most of them out for the Waverly Varsity team.

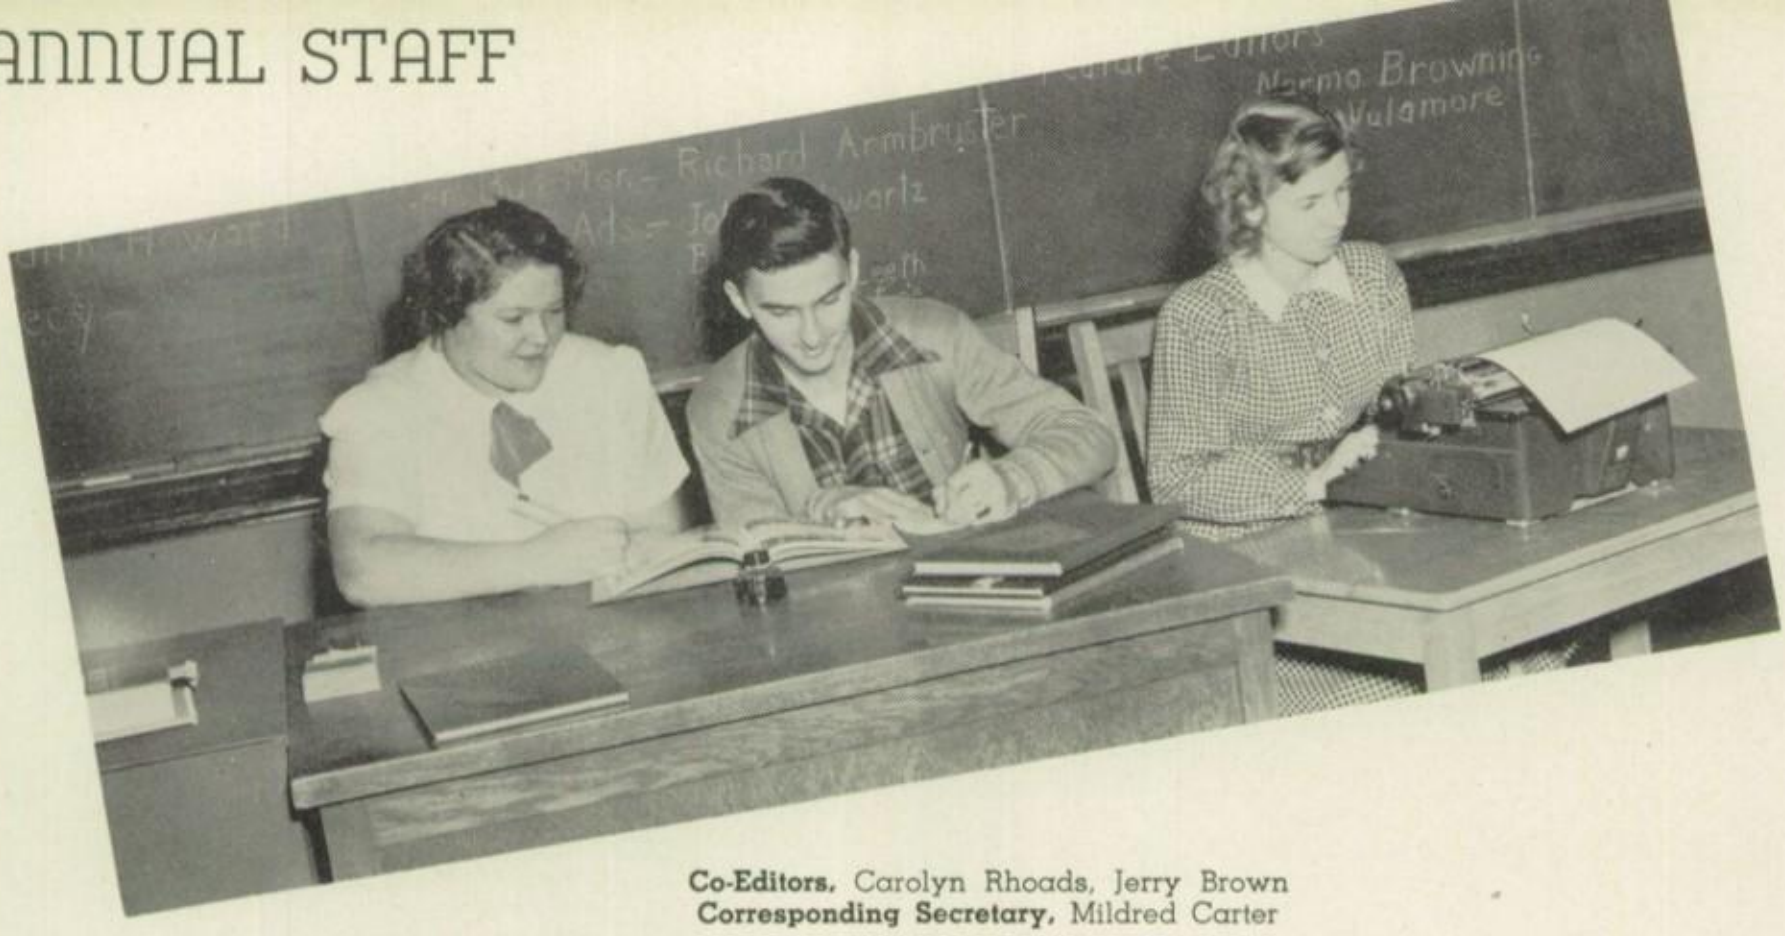
ACTIVITIES

ANNUAL STAFF



Co-Editors. Carolyn Rhoads, Jerry Brown
Corresponding Secretary. Mildred Carter

The publication of the Waverly Novel is the major problem of the Seniors' extra-curricular activities. They chose the staff and solicited advertising as soon as school began last fall. Then they mapped out the dummy and began their photography which was followed by endless identifications and write-ups for pictures and other articles.

Since the advertising did not completely finance the cost for production, other ways and means were used, such as a magazine sales campaign, candy sales, and after-game dances.

The departments of the staff have cooperated, and each has given its time, ingenuity, and effort toward producing this yearbook.

BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

Business management had a tough job. As they look, so it was — a pretty serious proposition. They did some tall figuring to make the debit and credit sides balance.

General Business Manager. Richard Armbruster. Ads. John Schwartz, Bill Scott, Mary Lou Leeth, Corda Crabtree. Sales. Lois West, Juanita Massie.

FEATURE STAFF

This conglomerate mass of feature editors and associates, activity editors, and art editors started out bravely on outlined courses, but it seemed as if they branched out in all directions. They soon found themselves doing all kinds of work, sometimes in the prescribed limits but more often on the outside. They did whatever they were asked to do.

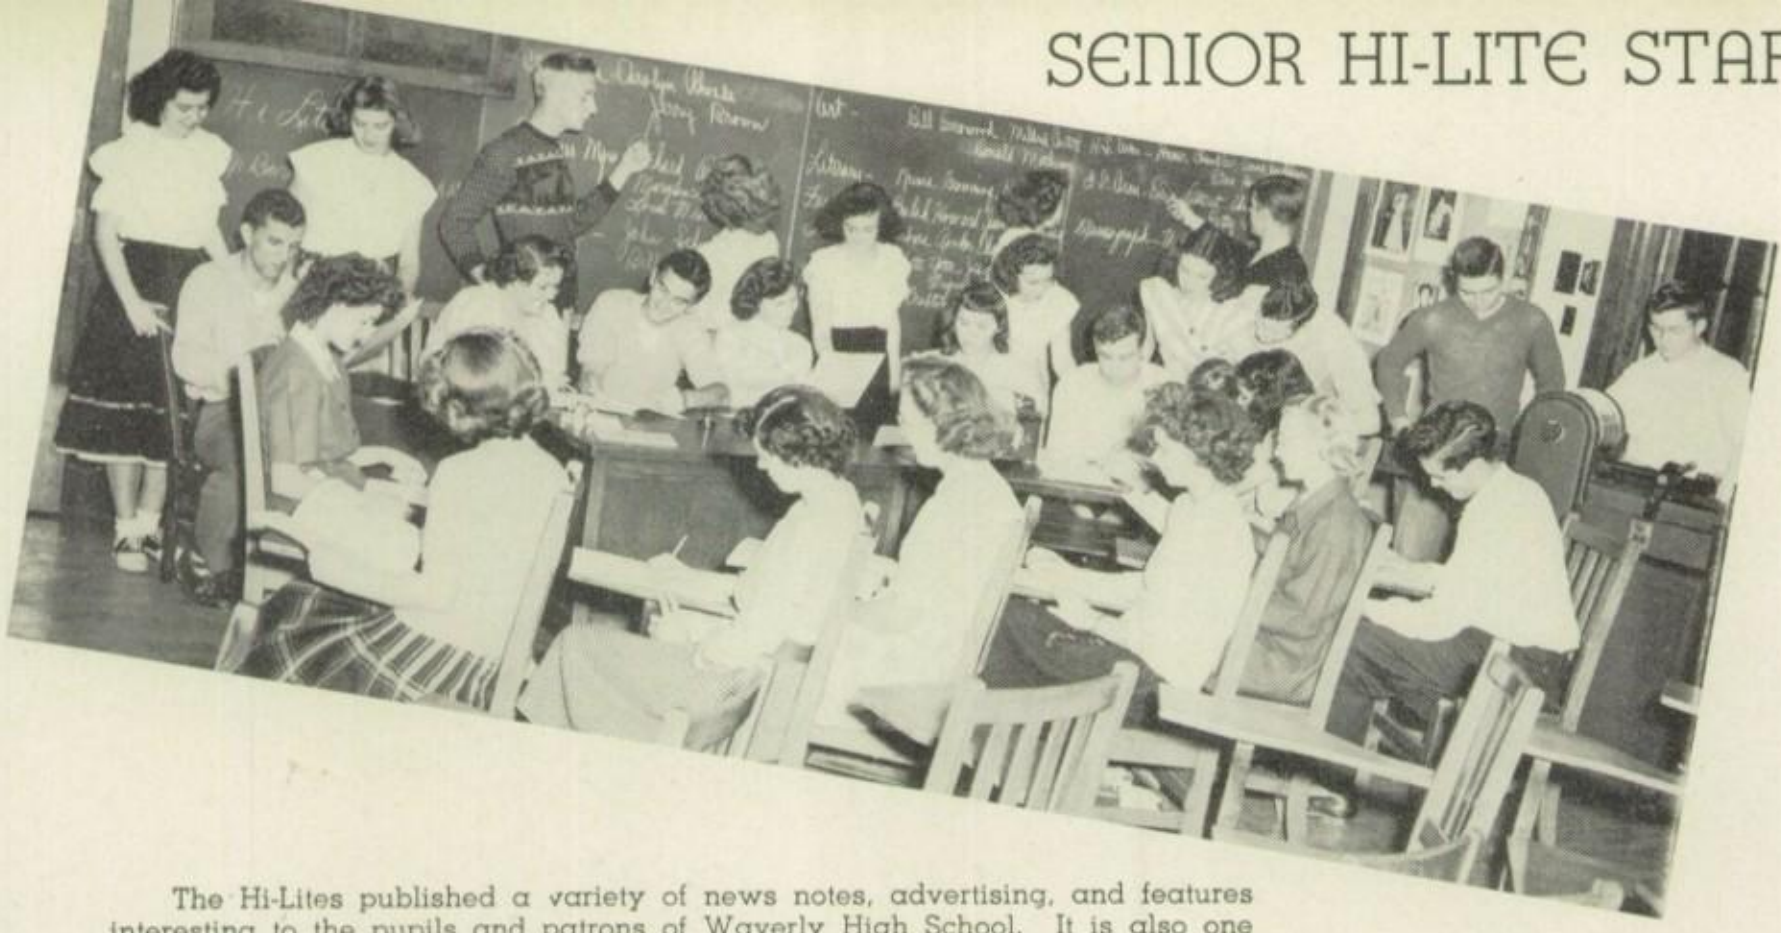
Feature Editors, Norma Browning, Jack Vulgamore. Associates, Juanita Massie, Edith Howard, Kathleen King, Marylou Leeth. Activity Editors, Beulah Howard, Eleanor Campbell. Art Editors, Barbara Booker, Edith Lansing, Don Mathews.

SPORTS, GRADE, AND HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

This group worked hard and played long. Oh, yes, the boys put down a few scores, but the girls really had more than their share of typing and re-typing. They did a swell job.

Sports Editors, Corda Crabtree, Bob Dyke, Kenny Hale. High School News Editor, Charlotte Yates. Grade News Editors, Jeanne McGowan, Eileen Harris, Betty Sharp.

SENIOR HI-LITE STAFF



The Hi-Lites published a variety of news notes, advertising, and features interesting to the pupils and patrons of Waverly High School. It is also one means of earning money to help defray the costs of the Waverly Novel.

This year's staff, with Jerry and Carolyn as editors, and Richard Armbruster as financial manager, has done an excellent job despite the usual conflicts. As the staff looks back, it sees those complications as making the work more interesting.

The Seniors edited seven issues and then gradually initiated the Juniors into the intricacies of newspaper work, which they continued to do until the end of the year.

JUNIOR HI-LITE STAFF

The Juniors are responsible for the editing of the Hi-Lites for the second semester. From the very first issue they proved to be no novices.

Their aim seems to be, "To print newsy news and gossipy clues," and to give "ad" products their just dues. Look for a continued good paper next year!

LATIN II

Latin II has chosen to study about Pompeii, and to read and digest Auxilium Latinum.

The high lights of the social features were an initiation ceremony for Latin I members, a Valentine Party, and a dinner party at Lake White Club.

The Waverly chapter of Future Homemakers of America for the year 1948-49 consists of fifty-one members. This chapter has enjoyed many activities such as the Mother and Daughter banquet, Making Games and Toys for crippled children, farewell party for the Seniors, World Christmas Festival Party, planning for F.H.A. camp, a party for High School teachers, and a radio broadcast.

Mrs. Mabel J. Scott is the chapter adviser.
Mrs. Paul McKimmey, the chapter mother.
Miss Joan Lykins, the honorary member.

Lois West, who is president of the F.H.A. this year, has always been an active member and leader. Besides being outstanding in our own chapter, Lois has shown her ability to do just as well in the state and nation. Because she has a pleasing personality and the appearance of being the typical F.H.A. girl, Lois was chosen one of the National vice-presidents last summer at the meeting held in Kansas City. She will preside as chairman over the regional meeting which is to be held July 12-14 in Columbus this summer.

Troop 76 is under the leadership of Max Way. These boys are a very industrious group. They have made money for their organization and helped the community by having paper drives, directing traffic at different occasions, and doing other things. Several of these boys have made rapid advancement toward their Eagle rank. This organization is nation-wide and builds the future men of the world.

The Girl Scouts is an American organization which aims to bring to all girls the opportunity for group experience and outdoor life. They learn to work through play and to serve their community. The Girl Scouts plan to reorganize sometime in the near future with new officers and leader.
